PACIFIC NORTHWEST LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

Bulletin # 1
15 May 1917

Committee on Subscription Books.

The committee on subscription books of the P.N.L.A. will be glad to receive information in regard to any such books offered for sale. We hope to tell more of our plans for work in a bulletin soon to be issued. In the meantime please report promptly and fully to the chairman on all subscription books offered by agents or letter. The committee will also welcome a list of subscription sets bought or considered during the past five years, with prices paid or offered. It is hoped that this work will benefit all members of the association. It is our intention to try to arrive at conclusions in regard to the best reference books now being offered by subscription, to give estimate of prices to be paid for the worthy sets, and to warn against the unworthy. No member of the committee has, or will, give endorsement to any work or agent except through the bulletin, and librarians should be cautious about accepting such endorsement of any librarian quoted by any agent.

WORKS BEING EXAMINED. We are on the watch for the following books. Will any librarian, to whom they may be offered for sale, examine them and report on them immediately to the chairman of the committee:

- Aiton's encyclopedia
- Appleton's new practical cyclopedia
- Book of knowledge
- Children's encyclopedia
- Children's library or work and play
- Holst - New teachers' and pupils' cyclopedia
- Hopkins - Book of progress
- Our wonder world
- Standard American encyclopedia
- Winton's cumulative encyclopedia
- World book
- Children's hour.

NOTES. We should like now to call attention to the one volume edition of the Century dictionary. It is the same as the 1914 edition except for its being in one volume. The new material of that edition is still in a supplementary alphabet. The great objection to its purchase is that it is on India paper which rolls badly under the hard usage it receives in a public library. Those libraries which have purchased India paper cyclopedias report them as exceedingly unsatisfactory on this account.

We should like also to call attention to the fact that the books of the International Correspondence School are soon to be raised in price from $3.20 to $4.00 per volume so that it behooves any librarian intending to purchase them to do so while they can still be obtained at the lower price.

COMMITTEE ON SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS:

- E. Ruth Rockwood, Reference Librarian,
Public Library, Portland, Chairman.
- Mrs. Gertrude F. Hess, Assistant Ref. Librarian,
Public Library, Seattle, Washington.
- Mary Lytle, Reference Librarian,
Public Library, Tacoma, Washington.
